Giddyup Standard is a TrueType font available for both Mac and Windows. It is put out by Adobe as part of their software, but can be bought separate online for about $22.00 to $44.00.

This font is best used as a display font to dress up a document or to call attention to certain parts of a design. Because of its many loops and squiggles, this type is not good for a general text font because it is not easily read. It makes a wonderful title or subtitle font because it draws attention to it and makes the text look like it has better structure and proper paragraph breaks.
